| Leadership Advisor

| Best-Selling Author

| Keynote Speaker

Global thought-leader on the concept of Relationship Economics®, the art and science of investing in strategic relationships to get extraordinary results.

EXPERIENCE

David delivers 50 keynotes annually for global brands, industry association conferences, and academic forums on the economic value of strategic business relationships. Tailoring content for audiences from boardrooms to ballrooms, he inspires people to think and behave differently when it comes to their portfolio of relationships.

David has authored 10 books, translated into eight languages, including best-sellers CO-CREATE (St. Martin's Press) and Relationship Economics (Wiley). His upcoming book, Curve Benders, will explore the way strategic relationships can bend the curve of one's personal and professional growth trajectory.

As CEO of The Nour Group, David advises top global leaders, boards, and associations on disruptive innovations to fuel their growth. His client engagements span leading companies including Chubb, Dell Technologies, Deloitte, Disney, Equifax, Eversheds Sutherland, HP Enterprise, IBM, Marriott International, and ThyssenKrupp.

PROFESSIONAL

David is an adjunct professor at the Goizueta Business School at Emory University. Named as one of the leadership experts on the 2019 Global Gurus Top 30 list, he is honored to be one of Marshall Goldsmith's 100 Coaches.

A Forbes Leadership contributor on the Future of Work, David's unique insights have been featured in a variety of prominent publications. David is a member of the National Association of Corporate Directors (NACD), where he has earned the Governance Fellow accreditation.
